Spring Conference Attendee Registration

Maverick Medical Education: Point-of-Care Ultrasound (POCUS) Workshop

Saturday April 22, from 1 p.m. - 6 p.m.

Point-of-care ultrasound (POCUS), an emerging specialization in the ultrasound world, gives CRNAs and other allied health professionals the ability to make faster, more accurate diagnoses at the point of care. Maverick's hands-on proficiency lab ensures you walk away with the knowledge and skill to speed up diagnoses, improve outcomes, and increase patient satisfaction!

POCUS has been gaining greater traction in recent years to assess a patient quickly and cost-effectively. It involves limited and specific ultrasound protocols performed at the bedside by the health care provider who is trying to answer a specific question and, thus, help guide treatment of the patient. POCUS is safe, accurate, and beneficial and can be performed with a relatively small amount of training by non-radiology specialists, including all primary care practitioners.

Primary care practitioners can easily and economically gain training in Point-of-Care Ultrasound through this hand's-on training programs.

$300 - POCUS Pre-Workshop & Workshop | Saturday, April 22 (1:00 p.m. - 6:00 p.m.) | 5 Hours CE
